

Unprecedented z/OS Batch Automation for today's datacenter

ThruPut Manager® Automation Edition Orientation Series

The ThruPut Manager Orientation series is offered as three 1-hour web sessions.

December 11, 2009	11 a.m. ET,	z/OS Batch Service: Executive View
January 15, 2009	11 a.m. ET,	Automation Edition: Conceptual View
January 29, 2009	11 a.m. ET,	Automation Edition: Operational View

Please join us for one or all of these complimentary sessions (each is standalone). They are suitable for those considering ThruPut Manager for their datacenter, and for staff of current customers who are new to ThruPut Manager.

Register today and we'll send you the information to join the web session.

ThruPut Manager Automation Edition Orientation Series

Executive View is a non-technical presentation suitable for management and strategy people. Whereas a "service-oriented" approach is surging in popularity in the IT world, tools to support the z/OS batch lifecycle are, from a service perspective, lacking. With the cost of batch service running to many millions of dollars, an all-encompassing, cost-saving automation solution is needed. This session explains how ThruPut Manager Automation Edition can be a strategic yet practical solution for managing z/OS batch service.

Conceptual View examines the facilities of the auto-pilot engine which deliver the automation, optimization and escalation benefits of ThruPut Manager. It gives you an appreciation for how powerful and all-encompassing ThruPut Manager Automation Edition is, as well as how straightforward it is to implement.

Operational View takes you on a visual tour of the external interfaces of ThruPut Manager Automation Edition, pointing out how the issues and features mentioned in the earlier seminars are actually implemented.
